Radio Norway International

No 2 1994/95 SEPTEMBER 26. - MARS 25.

DEAR LISTENERS

On the threshold of a new Norwegian winter we are delighted to present to you a new set of, we hope, really good frequencies for your shortwave pleasure.

The question of Norwegian entry into the European Union will be the hot issue in Norway this autumn. The Norwegian people will give their verdict in a referendum in November. But before that the campaign for or against membership will dominate the media and the general public debate. Radio Norway International will follow up and keep you informed - wherever you are.

Our weekly magazine "Norway Now" will furnish you with the latest news from Norway. Through interviews, reports and special features we will highlight politics, economy, Norway's relations with other countries, and of course Norwegian culture and everyday life.

And - a piece of good news for those of you who haven't already discovered it: listeners in Europe can hear "Norway Now" on the medium wave every Sunday at 1900 hours UTC on 1314 kHz.

And don't forget, we still like hearing from you, so keep on writing.

Radio Norway International on Sundays

SRI NOW PUTS IN A GREAT SIGNAL IN ENGLISH HERE IN THE SAN FRANCISCO AREA AT BOTH 01 AND 04 UTC. THE FORMER DATELINE IS NOW CALLED NEWSNET, BUT CONTENT IS JUST AS BORING. ON THE 0400 BROADCAST THE EXTENDED FEATURE IS BROADCAST. MOST OF WHAT I'VE HEARD IS RE-RUNS OF SRI'S WEEKEND FEATURES OF YEARS AGO, IT'S NOT ALL BAD AT LEAST WE HERE BOB ZANOTTI! EVEN BOB HAS BEEN SO 'HOUSE TRAINED' THAT HE REFUSES TO GIVE THE ADDRESS AND ASK FOR FEEDBACK. ROB BROOKES MADE THE THE MISTAKE OF GIVING THE ADDRESS AND ASKING FOR COMMENTS ABOUT THREE WEEKS AGO AND HAS NOT BEEN HEARD SINCE. (FIRED I GUESS(G)) YOU ONLY GET FIRED AT SRI FOR GIVING THE WEATHER OR BEING HUMAN ON THE AIR!.

I FIND SRI VERY SAD! THEY HAVE THE ABILITY TO DO GOOD WORK AND IT EVEN SHOWS EVERY ONCE AND WHILE, BUT FOR BUT MOST PART THE BROADCASTS ARE BORING, POORLY PRESENTLY AND NOT CONSIDERATE OF THE NEEDS OF THE AUDIENCE. WHAT I FIND SO SAD IS THAT THREE OFFICIALS OF SRI DETERMINE CONTENT AND DON'T CARE IF ANYONE LISTENS TO THAT CONTENT. MAYBE SOMEONE DISAGREES WITH ME? IT'S A SHAME AND MAYBE A WASTE OF TIME TO FLAME WHEN THEY CAN'T ANSWER, BUT THEY HAVE THE BUDGET TO SEND THE THREE OFFICIALS ON FIVE OR SIX FIRST CLASS TRIPS AROUND WORLD, THEY SHOULD FIND THE MONEY TO JOIN INTERNET AND NOT ONLY TO FLAME BACK, BUT LISTEN TO WHAT WE LISTENER'S HAVE TO SAY AND MAYBE MOST OF ALL PROMOTE THEIR PROGRAMS IN A SIMILAR FASHION TO HCJB'S DX PARTY LINE OR ANY OF THE OTHER BROADCASTERS WHO REALLY WANT TO BROADCAST TO LISTENER'S FOR OTHER REASONS THEN TO HAVE THEIR BANK ACCOUNTS CREDITED

Dear contributing friend:

Many things have happened in the last few days regarding the ministry of KGEI radio. I have dedicated 29 years to this ministry, preaching, writing, teaching and traveling often to various countries in Latin America to speak to varied audiences.

Up to now I cannot understand why, after 34 years, this ministry was so suddenly shut down. I have many questions, but there is no one who can satisfactorily answer them. As a matter of fact, I have even offered to continue to operate KGEI at no cost to Far East Broadcasting Company, but even this offer has been denied.

After having several offers rejected, I have decided to look elsewhere for alternatives to go back on the air as soon as possible, on short wave, in order to not lose our listening audience. At this time I am making plans to travel to South America, to Chile, where a door of opportunity seems to be opening, where I would be able to continue broadcasting the programs that used to air on KGEI on or near our same frequency in the 19 meter band. Regardless of the outcome of this trip, I will be letting you know what is decided. Please pray for this matter that God may allow the ministry to continue on the air as before, and even for more hours and with better programs. In spite of the fact that KGEI is off the air, I continue to work as before, recording programs in order to continue supplying them to local stations throughout Latin America that air them free of cost.

Besides the possibility of continuing the work in a South American country, an alternative is to put a transmitter in Central America, for example in Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Guatemala or El Salvador. In Nicaragua I have already been offered the land for the transmitter site free of cost. In El Salvador I was encouraged to hear from the broadcasting authorities that they could not foresee any problems that would prevent me from broadcasting from their country. I think this would be true in the other countries I mentioned as well. But if I want to return to the air in the very near future, the best possibility at this moment appears to be Chile where the equipment is already in place and it is just a financial consideration of seeing if our objectives could be met without a high price tag. I would like to return to the airwaves as soon as possible, in order to fill the void left by the "passing away" of KGEI.

Shortly, in a future mailing, I would like to share excerpts of some of the letters we have received from our listeners, expressing the sadness and pain they feel as a result of KGEI going off the air. It truly pains me to read these letters, each of which express the deep loss and emptiness the listeners feel after having KGEI go off the air so unexpectedly. I will keep you updated regarding the future of this ministry, but for now ask the following of you:

1. Please continue to support this ministry, not only with your prayers, but also economically. I will continue receiving my salary from FEBC, but only through September 1994. If I do not receive the support I need, I will have no other option but to leave this pursuit of returning to the airwaves and find other means of supporting my family. I am willing to make sacrifices, and am no stranger to hardship. but I have a family that depends on me. You may remember that my wife has also worked for KGEI for 26 years, as well as my daughter, Melody. With KGEI's closing, the three of us were left without work, without a salary, although I do receive limited support from the small church (Iglesia Biblica Misionera) where I serve part-time as Senior Pastor.

2. At this time I am working towards organizing a new corporation in order to continue this ministry. But until that is formalized, you can still send your donation through the church, IGLESIA BIBLICA MISIONERA, and receive a receipt. Always send any correspondence and donations to the following address:

Rev. J. A. Holowaty
c/o Iglesia Biblica Misionera
P.O. Box 0927
San Carlos, CA 94070-0927 USA

Should you wish to contact me by fax, the number is (415) 347-6320, and my home telephone number is (415) 347-1587. Please take note of this address and the telephone numbers.

3. If you are an individual who God has blessed materially and could make a substantial one-time contribution towards this goal of continuing this radio ministry, please contact me at your earliest convenience. Should the doors open in Chile, I would need to raise a substantial amount of cash within a few days. Although I have some funds in a savings account, it would by no means be sufficient to cover the cost. I should also mention that I would receive support from Christians there in Chile, but again, I would need more to reach our goal. It would be wonderful to find 400 individuals who could donate at least $1,000 each for this cause. It is not too much to ask of someone, but are there this many people who would be willing to support this ministry in this way?

In closing, I am asking that you please stay in contact with me and pray about what you could do to bring this radio ministry back on the air. If you are unable to be one of the 400 to give $1,000, please continue to support this work with any amount you can give. I just ask that your donations be consistent, punctual and generous. Do what you can, and the Lord will take care of the rest.

"Finally brethren, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may have free course, and be glorified, even as it is with you." 2 Thessalonians 3:1.

Sincerely in Christ,

Rev. J. A. Holowaty

(from Joel Rubin, San Francisco, Sept. 24)

After some dark time, KTID (1510 San Rafael), KTID-FM (100.7, San Rafael) and a new K26TDI (101.9, Sausalito) are now identifying as The new KKHI and playing classical music. (But the FCC doesn't call them KKHI.) I believe that the new owner is the owner of a classical station in Los Angeles and that he got the old KKHI library from KKHI killer Westinghouse. However, he's lost a few plums, like the Texaco Metropolitan Opera and the San Francisco Symphony to KDFC. San Rafael is about 25 miles north of the Golden Gate Bridge and Sausalito is just north of the bridge, so this must be a relay for San Francisco and south. I don't have problems receiving either of the FM stations but the AM station is very weak and either it is daytime only or it is so weak that it is blocked out by skywaves at night.

Capital Cities/ABC has purchased and changed the format on KSFO, 560. It is still basically a talk station, but the old staff was all fired and they no longer carry Watergate burglar G. Gordon Liddy. I think they are going for a somewhat younger audience than their talk station KGO, 810 which has been an ABC O&O since back when ABC was the NBC Blue Network. The KSFO firing which brought the most attention was that of morning man Gene Nelson who was called The Emperor back in the 50's. Don't cry for him. He has his. He is retiring to Maui. No more n hours of old-time radio on Sunday night/Monday morning.

With the new college semester, it appears that 103.3 is no longer a good frequency for pirate radio, since KSCU is using it part-time from Santa Clara University, just this side of San José.

A VISIT TO THE VOICE OF INDONESIA

During my recent stay in Indonesia, I took the opportunity to visit The Voice of Indonesia in Jakarta. I met Anastasia Yasmine, Head of the Section for International Cooperation. She was very helpful and introduced me to many editors and presenters of various language sections. They were all very friendly, as most Indonesians are, by the way. The Voice of Indonesia now broadcasts in 10 different languages, viz. Bahasa Indonesia, English, Arabic, Malaysian, Mandarin, Thai, Japanese, French, German and Spanish. They have two 100 kW transmitters at Cimanggis in West Java, a site which is also used for Home Service broadcasts.
Since 1988 they also have a 250 kW transmitter at Padang Cermin in North Sumatra. Its curtain antenna is beamed at 316 degrees to Europe and can be slewed up to 15 degrees to cover the Middle East and North Africa as well. It is expected that two or three 250 kW transmitters will be added over the next couple of years. But now for a bit of history first.

The proclamation of indepedence of the Republic of Indonesia on August 17, 1945, moved the Indonesian people to a struggle in all fields, including broadcasting. The Overseas Service of Radio Republik Indonesia, with its station call "The Voice of Indonesia" or "Suara Indonesia", served in the early days as a forum for the young patriots to introduce and popularize the new state to the international world. Various countries, such as Australia, India, Pakistan, Egypt and the United States gave their positive reactions. Thus an image of the young and indepedent republic came into shape for the outside world.

From Proclamation Day till November 1945, there were 3 radio stations available with broadcasts directed overseas, viz. in Bandung, Jakarta and Surabaya. They used the station call "The Voice of Free Indonesia" and managed to present accounts of the revolution taking place. The name of these services was taken from an English language magazine called "The Voice of Free Indonesia" which served as a source of material used by the broadcasting service. The programmes were run for only a few hours per day, especially at night. The sites of the radio stations had to be kept secret. They often changed to avoid air attacks and bombings by the allied troops and the Dutch East-Indies colonial authorities wishing to regain control.

In July 1946 a merger took place of the stations in Bandung, Surabaya and Jakarta, forming the Indonesian Broadcasting Centre (IBC) in Yogyakarta, Central Java. Following the official transfer of sovereignty by the Netherlands to Indonesia on December 27, 1949, and the transfer of the capital city from Yogyakarta to Jakarta, the offices of "The Voice of Free Indonesia" were also moved to Jakarta. Also the name was then changed to THE VOICE OF INDONESIA.

During my second visit to the station, I was interviewed by Anastasia Yasmine, and this was recorded for one of the English language broadcasts. One of the topics we discussed was the fact that reception of the Voice of Indonesia is often difficult in Europe. I suggested that they would try to improve in their frequency management and change frequencies with the seasons. Right now they stay put on 9675 kHz and 11752 kHz. Especially 9675 kHz might have to be changed as Port Moresby is now also using this channel. Moreover RRI Home Service uses 9680 kHz, another possible source of interference.... I expressed the hope that they would succeed in establishing an effective contact with their transmitting stations. Also the Frequency Registration Section of the Indonesian PTT - in consultation with the ITU in Geneva - might be able to provide them with some frequencies in other bands.

The Voice of Indonesia continues to welcome listeners' letters and reception reports and please note that their address is now P.O. Box 1157 in Jakarta. Finally, I also discovered that their FM relay for Jakarta has moved to 103 MHz.

I did not succeed in logging New Caledonia on 7170 (but they may have left SW) and Kiribati on 9825. No luck with the Cook Islands on 11760 either, but the freq. was never really clear and they may be inactive. SIBS Honiara was heard during local evenings on 5020. I found 9545 blocked most of the time and I did not hear them there.

Maarten van Delft

This summer I spent 7 weeks island-hopping in Micronesia and Indonesia. Fortunately, there was enough time for DX-ing en route. I concentrated my efforts on domestic stations in the international bands. Nearly all listening was done on my Sony ICF-7600DS (a faithful travel companion for the past 6 years) and I only used its small telescopic antenna. On 2 days, however, while sailing in Indonesia, I could hook up the little Sony to one of the long guy wires running to the top of the tall mast. This worked very well! Please note that all freq's are more or less approx., given the 5 kHz tuning steps of the Sony.
Although I do like this holiday DX-ing, I never send any reception reports to stations I hear. For me, DXing is still the challenge of hearing as many stations as possible from my own QTH.

Now what is it like to listen to SW in the North-West Pacific? The international bands over there are very quiet. "Powerhouses" are rare and so there are never any annoying intermodulation effects due to overloading, a phenomenon which is - sad but true! - often noted in Europe. Reception conditions were, of course, most interesting at around sunrise and sunset. Once on the beach in Kosrae (one of the States comprising the Federated States of Micronesia), I noted the following stations 1 hour before sunset: R. Clube Paranaense, Curitiba (6040), R. Nacional Argentina (6060) and CFRX Toronto (6070). And now for the other loggings:

Sunday Morning's new voice

Ian Brown, the new host of CBC Radio's key current affairs program Sunday Morning, thinks of himself as a writer and reporter first and in a way, he says, this is a reporter's show.

"To be a good host, you have to be a good reporter," he says, adding that on Sunday Morning, he wants to give listeners the stories "that they're really interested in, but are not getting."

Brown, author of the critically acclaimed book, Man Overboard, is familiar to listeners as panelist and replacement host on Morningside.

Brown's style is personal, friendly and approachable and he is easy to talk to both on and off the air. He likes to talk and describes Canada as a country of talkers. He then goes on to complain that during the three years that he lived in Los Angeles with his wife Joanna Schneller and their daughter, nobody talked.

He looks forward to the talk that flows on Sunday Morning and says he would like to do stories about the things "we didn't know we were yearning to know." He adds that Patsy Pehleman has a terrific instinct about which stories are going to turn out to be the interesting ones.

Pehleman, executive producer of Sunday Morning says: "The new Sunday Morning will continue with the documentaries and documentary-makers who have won critical acclaim over the years. New host Ian Brown brings a more writerly perspective, a sense of humour and an eclectic curiosity to the show."

She notes that there will be more interviews, panels, essays, arts coverage and showcasing of music and literature.

Pehleman goes on to say that "the program will respond to the needs of the intelligent listener who is open to smart talk, analysis and interesting people."

She adds that "Ian is a terrific performer and writer. He's funny and full of surprising and good ideas. We're lucky to have him."

3 WORD FOR WORD
A monthly feature on IDEAS hosted by Ian Alexander that explores the ideas of the best new non-fiction books.

4 CONVICTIONS ON TRIAL
In Canada and around the world people are imprisoned for crimes they did not commit. How does this happen? David and Joyce Milgaard with lawyer Hersh Wolch; Donald Marshall; Anne McGuire and Sandra Hunter, accused in IRA bombings and lawyer Alastair Logan; New York Supreme Court Justice Bruce Wright; "Hurricane" Carter, wrongly jailed for 22 years, with his lawyer Leon Friedman — all speak of their experiences with blind justice. Also: Chief justice Gregory Evans (commissioner of the Marshall Inquiry), reporter Kirk Makin (on the Morin murder trials), Donna Laframboise (on forensic evidence), Mick Lowe (author of "Conspiracy of Brothers"), and Mark Lipson (producer of "The Thin Blue Line").

5 THE REDSHIFT CONTROVERSY
We gauge the distance of celestial objects by measuring how much their light is shifted towards the red end of the spectrum. Colman Jones discovers that this may give us a wrong picture of the universe.

6 BEDROOMS OF THE NATION
"The state has no business in the bedrooms of the nation," said Pierre Trudeau when he was Justice Minister in 1967. He meant that laws governing consenting sexual conduct should be kept to a minimum. Now the pendulum is swinging back to an older view that sexual behaviour and erotic images are prime targets for official regulation; our courts are overflowing with cases where sex is the crime. These programs, organized by IDEAS producer Max Allen and York University historian Jay Cassel examine this trend. The Essence of Desire (Oct 6), with sociologist Mariana Valverde, is about the social and biological foundations of love and lust. The Trials of London (Oct 7) is about the London, Ontario, police campaign against gay teenagers and the men who pay them for sex. Writing on the Body (Oct 13) is about the regulation of personal appearance where Culture and Eros intersect. Picture This (Oct 14), from a symposium at the Art Gallery of Ontario, is about the risks artists face in dealing with sexual matters; we highlight the case of Eli Langer, whose paintings and drawings are themselves on trial.

10 VISIONS OF MARS
The Russian Mars-96 spacecraft will send two packages of cameras and scientific instruments to the surface of Mars. Aboard the Russian craft will be an 8cm CD-ROM disc developed in the U.S., a gift from our generation to future Martian settlers. The disc is a library of images and stories from around the world, honouring the role played by science fiction in fueling the dreams of the people who designed, built, flew and paid for the missions that eventually reached across space. These programs, by Jon Lomberg, are about the Visions of Mars disc: the people who devised it, how its contents were chosen, and its significance to NASA and the Russian space agency.

12 THE REMAKING OF NEW ZEALAND
New Zealand has undergone a neo-conservative revolution in order to deal with its debt crisis. But the country has paid a heavy price. Child poverty has climbed steeply, the youth suicide rate is the highest in the world, and there is a crisis in democracy. Murray Dobbin examines the remaking of New Zealand, from the political coup which ushered in the reforms, to the current resistance to the changes.

20 NOT JUST SPARE PARTS
Transplanting one person's organs into another once inspired awe. Now it is routine. Cathy Lesage looks at the emotional and spiritual side of organ transplants.

21 HARLEY DAVIDSON: PORTRAIT OF A MYTH
The company almost went broke, but smart marketing turned the "Hog" into an American icon. A feature by St. John's writer Gerry Amey.

24

25 COMMUNITY AND ITS COUNTERFEITS: CONVERSATIONS WITH JOHN MCKNIGHT
John McKnight has defended neighbourhoods since the 1950s, when he worked as a community organizer in Chicago. He says that communities are created by the free play of affinity and obligation, in an unmanaged space. And that they are disabled when professional services turn active citizens into dependent clients. Today, as Director of Community Studies at Northwestern University's Centre for Urban Affairs, he is trying to guide communities back to independence. In these conversations with John McKnight, David Cayley examines how community is destroyed, and how it is restored.

26 MEDICARE AT A CROSSROADS
Almost daily, media reports suggest our health care system is in crisis. Provider groups argue the system is underfunded. Governments warn of cost explosions. But you have to look behind the headlines to uncover the real pressures on Canada's health care system. The system was set up like an insurance company; governments would write the cheques. There was no ceiling on growth and little accountability. Now, major change is on the agenda. How should limited public money best be spent on health and health care, and who should decide and enforce policy? Ann Silversides examines the need for better health care in Canada, and the obstacles to it.

THE MEN WHO SEARCH AND RESCUE
They dive, they hike, they parachute and they climb mountains. Their nerves are made of steel; their hearts are made of gold. Armed with medical kits, as well as guns, Canada's search and rescue technicians — SARtechs — are on alert twenty-four hours a day to go wherever they're needed to save lives. They're an elite corps of the Canadian Forces, and writer/broadcaster Diane Silverman asks: what makes SARtechs tick?

NOVEMBER 1994

31 THE FAMINE IRISH IN CANADA
Between 1845 and 1851 one million people died in Ireland and a million more left. Thousands came to Canada. Historian David Wilson tells their story.

3 THE QUEST FOR SWEDISH IDENTITY
Sweden has been seen as a model of social democracy, the legendary welfare state. Now, change is coming as Swedes prepare to vote in a referendum on joining the European Union. Are there lessons here for Canada, another northern democracy and a multicultural state with aboriginal peoples? David Stafford and Jeanne Cannizzo listen to Swedes as they debate their future and question their past.

4 JAMES HILLMAN: TURNING THE SOUL INSIDE OUT
Among psychologists, Hillman is a brilliant, provocative original. Marilyn Powell presents the man, his writing, his ideas.

7 WORD FOR WORD
A monthly feature on IDEAS hosted by Ian Alexander that explores the ideas of the best new non-fiction books.

ON THE EVE OF THE MILLENNIUM — THE 1994 MASSEY LECTURES BY CONOR CRUISE O'BRIEN
On the eve of our present millennium, the world was a world of wars and plague. In these ways, it was quite like the world today, on the eve of the third millennium of the Christian Era. What is similar is the continuity of the human condition; what is different, is how we interpret that condition. In these lectures, Conor Cruise O'Brien, scholar, journalist, diplomat, statesman, examines the psychological significance of such phenomena as the ends and beginnings of centuries and millennia, occasions for looking back, looking inward, and peering forward.

21 AFROCENTRISM
More black students drop out of high school than any other minority group. Some educators blame "Eurocentrism" and advocate an "Afrocentric" curriculum.

22 THE IDEA OF MARRIAGE
Men invented marriage, historians tell us, to safeguard their genetic survival and guarantee a cheap source of labour — their families. Historians also teach that men didn't invent romantic love until the Middle Ages. But writer Suanne Kelman examines evidence ranging from Babylonian love poetry to new research in human biology, and finds that marriage cannot be reduced simply to a male exercise of power and property.

23 BEYOND INSTITUTIONS - I 24 25
In 1992, David Schwarz, the Director of the Development Disabilities Planning Council of Pennsylvania, published a book called Crossing the River: Creating a Conceptual Revolution in Community and Disability. His "river" was the divide between a world of institutions and the unmanaged, everyday world evoked by the word "community." In community, people with disabilities can hope to find friendship and purpose; in institutions, only professional care. David Cayley explores how far friendship and hospitality can go in creating alternatives to institutionalization.

28 PRIDE AND PLAGUE: STONEWALL TRACES
Twenty-five years after a raid on a gay bar in New York, a million gay men and women celebrate it as a touchstone of their movement.

30 BEYOND INSTITUTIONS - II 1 2
In 1969, a psychiatric social worker named Jerry Miller was appointed head of the Department of Youth Services in Massachusetts, which was responsible for the reform schools in the state. Three years later, there were no reform schools left; Miller had simply closed them. Today, he heads the Centre on Institutions and Alternatives, where he is trying to keep people out of the vicious circle in which crime engenders punishment, and punishment engenders crime. David Cayley asks if changing the relationship between institutions and communities may lead us out of the current impasse of western societies.
